Jury still wants new jail

A Madison County grand jury Thursday made its final recommendations for county improvements before it disbanded. The jury referred to the reports of previous grand juries concerning "perennial problems affecting space requirements and facilities" in the county. The jury also suggested: "Efforts should be made immediately to replace the Shelter Care Home. The County Jail should be replaced immediately with a new one. "Steps should be taken for a program which would broaden the use of the Tuberculosis Clinic to include other services," and suggested inoculations of children as one use for the facility.

The jury also said a teacher at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home should be recommended for the program being provided there.

Chenoweth new potentate

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

CHARLES G. CHENOWETH

Nearly 1,000 nobles of Ainaad Temple gathered at the Mosque in St. Louis Thursday night for election of officers for 1974. Retired Bottler Charles G. Chenoweth of Belleville was elected to succeed James E. Carter, who now resides in Vicksburg, Miss. Chenoweth was appointed in line for the post by Wyatt Rawlings in 1964 while still operating the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. in Belleville.

Nearly 50 nobles received their "golden Shriners" awards as nobles of the year of their club or unit. Membership awards also were made. Ainaad covers all of Southern Illinois and has more than 8,500 nobles on its rolls.

With 33 Shrine clubs and 30 units within the Temple, Ainaad ranks among the largest of the 174 temples on the North American continent. More than 520 million is spent each year operating 19 orthopedic hospitals and three burns institutes.

Each Shriner pays $5 per year of his dues for the hospital program as well as working to help make the extra funds needed. Circuses, football games, wills and bequests help make up the balance.

Ainaad members will gather on Feb. 23 for the formal installation of officers and the swearing in of presidents of clubs and units. Other officers elected at the meeting included: Chief rabban—William R. Popkes, Belleville. Assistant rabban — Bob Hardy, Belleville. High priest and prophet—Ralph Green, Belleville. Oriental guide—C. A. "Jack" Morris, a druggist, was appointed in the line of succession as a future potentate. He is in business with his brother, Joe, in operation of the Blanco Rexall Drug Store in downtown DuQuoin.

Chaplain—Rev. C. V. Tolley, O'Fallon.

A bid by Jack Harper of Pontoon Beach was accepted for the sale of two used village police cars. Harper bid $150 each for the units.

Trustees were informed that the pump at the Quiet Valley Lagoon was not functioning and that another pump had been borrowed temporarily from the East Side Levee and Sanitary District. The board is to study problems at the lagoon and seek a permanent solution.

The board voted to have the village clerk write a letter to the Nameki Township Board of Auditors, thanking them for allowing the village to use village equipment for snow removal during the recent heavy snow. Several township officials and workers also assisted in the effort to clear the village streets.

Need fire extinguishers

The Pontoon Beach Village Board was informed Thursday night that it will have to purchase fire extinguishers for the village hall.

A letter from the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department was read at the board's meeting, informing the trustees of the requirement. An inspection by the fire inspector for the district revealed the lack of units in the building.

The board agreed to consult with the fire inspector to determine the number and type of extinguishers needed.

A village business license was approved for Rich's Foreign Auto Body Shop in the 4200 block of Highway 111 after village zoning officials informed the trustees they had approved industrial zoning for the lot. The business was one which formerly was refused a license.

Volunteers wishing to help Patrolman Roy Kaberna of the Granite City Police Department cut reflective tape for children's coats are asked to work at 7 p.m. Monday at the Nameki School cafeteria.

Kaberna, who is Officer Friendly in the department's public relations program, is preparing the strips for children to wear on their way to school in the mornings when it still is dark. The tape reflects the headlights of cars, giving motorists warning of children ahead.

Surge in state spending

Illinois did not live within its income during the past six months, Comptroller George W. Lindberg notes in his latest monthly report on the state's fiscal health.

General fund expenditures exceeded revenue by $160 million for July through December 1974. About a third of the deficiency—$50 to $60 million—attributed to weather-related processing delays of state receipts during the last half of December; this amount is expected to be recovered during January.

"The spending picture is quite different from revenue," Lindberg said. "The trend of the past six months cannot continue without jeopardizing the state's fiscal health."

"My purpose is to raise a warning flag about the spending pattern of the past six months at a time when we face economic uncertainty about the remaining six months of the state's fiscal year," Lindberg said.

"Presently, an economic slowdown is forecast for the second half of fiscal 1974. A slowdown traditionally reduces the state's revenue growth and tends to increase public aid spending."

"The major spending increase, running well above earlier estimates by the governor, is in the public aid sector, which is $100 million higher than during the same six-month period in our last fiscal year."

"Four months ago, I reported that the state was in excellent financial condition. The $387 million left in the treasury at the close of fiscal year 1973 on July 1 was the highest in the state's history. The picture has changed. That available balance has declined to $227 million. The state is not living within its means. The bright outlook of four months ago is no longer so bright."

"Historically, Lindberg said, spending in the second half of a fiscal year has exceeded that in the first half by a significant amount due to: an added three months of lapse-period spending; higher grant payments for public aid, junior colleges and scholarships; and income tax refund demands."

While Lindberg concentrated on the condition of the general fund, he noted that total spending for all funds, including the general funds, is up by $223 million during the first six months of fiscal 1974 over the same period in fiscal 1973.

Hope to end notary seal on auto license requests

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett said Friday he will support 1974 state legislation to end the requirement for notary public service in vehicle license plate applications.

"New legislation recently removed the necessity for notarizing driver's license applications, but Illinois law still requires a notary seal on plate applications," Howlett said.

"The most important documents most citizens ever file with the government are their federal and state income tax returns. Their signatures are sufficient; the signatures do not have to be notarized."

"In our time, with computers speeding up the process of distributing $1.2 million sets of license plates a year in Illinois, it is senseless to require return of applications for lack of notarization."

"In the 1973 General Assembly, we supported a bill which would have removed the notarization requirement from all applications under the Motor Vehicle Code, but it failed to pass the House."

"Elimination of the driver's license application from the notarization requirement resulted from an amendment to a totally different bill. But we would like to take it off the House."

"We want to eliminate waste of the taxpayers' time and money in any way we can. That's why we closed license stations that were not fully used, and eliminated random road tests on license renewal for experienced drivers with good records—and for drivers moving to Illinois with valid out-of-state licenses."

"Any way we can save money and time for the taxpayers is a way to make that money and time available for the human needs of people."

Meet on problems of aged

The first meeting of a newly-created Council on Aging will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the State of Illinois Building, 160 N. LaSalle St., Springfield.

Gov. Dan Walker will make the opening remarks. Acting Chairman Harold O. Swank will report on progress made by the department since it was created in the last session of the legislature.

The council also will elect officers, including a chairman, vice chairman and secretary. Members of the Technical Advisory Committee on Aging, including the chairman by statute, Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan, also are to attend.

Walker said, "Both the council and the Technical Advisory Committee will add a new dimension to the operations of the department. Not only will we have technical expertise, but we also will have citizens who know and understand the problems of aging."

"They can tell us what is needed, which is much better than simply having 'experts' tell people what their problems are."

The 22 appointees to the council, the members of the Technical Advisory Committee and legislative committee members do not include Quad-Cityans.

Illinois wooing Far East trade

Howard Frick, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, is leaving for Hong Kong today for a one-week series of meetings with members of the international business community centered there.

He will be attempting to attract foreign businesses to Illinois and encourage greater foreign purchases of Illinois products.

Frick's schedule in Hong Kong will include addresses to and meetings with business groups and trade leaders headquartered in the colony.

He will convey Gov. Dan Walker's greetings at a reception for 300 persons, marking formal opening of the Illinois Far East Trade Development Office.

The office was established to help Illinois increase its share in economic benefits derived from doing business in the Far East.

"Present U.S. exports to all Far East countries already amount to more than $16 billion," Frick reports. "The potential markets there represent enormous possibilities for the future."

"In the next 20 years, we may be doing more business with this part of the world than with Europe."

He said the Illinois trade office was placed in Hong Kong because it is the single most important hub of economic activity and information in the Far East.

Business connections from Hong Kong reach to Japan, Korea, Taiwan, the People's Republic of China, Singapore, Thailand, Indonesia, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and many points in between.

Specific functions of Illinois' Far East office include five kinds of promotional activity. One is to provide general market information to Illinois producers. Another is to develop specific trade leads for Illinois business, both export and import, manufacturing and agricultural.

A third is to help Illinois firms find appropriate local sales representatives, while a fourth is to stimulate reverse investment by pre-selling the advantages of an Illinois location to foreign firms considering establishing industries or businesses in the U.S.

The fifth is promoting transport of Far East commerce through this state's sea and air international port facilities, which offer direct access from abroad to the whole Midwest.

"All these services are designed to help small to medium-sized companies which cannot individually perform such necessary groundwork. The net benefits accrue to the people of Illinois in the jobs and income generated," Frick said.

ROBERT HOFFERS BECOME PARENTS OF FIRST SON

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffek of Peru, Ill., have named their first son, Brian Ray. He was born Jan. 14 and weighed nine pounds and one ounce.

The infant's father, a former Granite City resident, is a coach and teacher at LaSalle-Peru Senior High School. His wife, the former Miss Karen King, teaches at the Ladd Elementary School in Peru.

The couple also has two daughters, Angela Lynn, 6 years, and Nicole Marie, 3. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hoffek, 2500 Lynch Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Harold King of Chestnut, Ill., are the maternal grandparents.

Equipment bidding authorized

Bids will be sought for a new type mosquito abatement machine which operates on a spray basis as opposed to a fogging device and can be mounted on the rear of a truck or jeep, the Granite City Park Board decided in a meeting last week.

The machine is expected to cost about $2,500 and uses a liquid chemical guaranteed to kill insect eggs before they hatch, the board was told.

Park Superintendent Harold Brown was authorized to get prices on flowers, shrubs and trees needed for spring planting.

Noting an impending shortage of chlorine gas used in the park swimming pool, Brown said the supplier, Thompson-Hayward Chemical Co. of St. Louis, has agreed to provide sufficient quantity, with the chlorine to be purchased in a 20-tank quantity. The district requires about 30 tanks each season, the officer said.

The Illinois Park and Recreational state basketball tournament for men and the women's state softball tournament are to be staged in Granite City this year, Brown said.

Hartigan not given temporary authority

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The governor is still snubbing the lieutenant governor.

The uncomf for table relationship between Gov. Daniel Walker and Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, which has existed since the start of the administration a year ago, may have taken a turn for the worse.

Hartigan this month took pains not only to avoid public criticism of Walker, but to speak highly of the governor and to downgrade persistent press commentary that the two do not get along or work well together.

Walker's response to Hartigan's conciliatory Jan. 11 Capitol press conference has been to symbolically break the preferred olive branch.

He has studiously ignored Hartigan's gentle hints that he should receive more information from the various state agencies, to equip him for any sudden or unexpected move into the governorship, and that he should be given more important assignments—including a role in the energy conservation and development area.

Instead, Walker has hugged even more tightly the spotlight on the energy issue and subtly made it clear that he is Illinois' governor and running a one-man show.

The latest snub became subtly evident when the governor, accompanied by his wife, Roberta, departed for a 10-day vacation in sunny Puerto Rico.

The trip was viewed as an opportunity to respond to Hartigan's press conference overtures and give the lieutenant governor a friendly boost by designating him as acting governor while the governor himself was beyond the shores of the United States.

If Hartigan had been hoping for a response in kind from Walker, he was quickly disappointed.

Not only did Walker not use the authority in the 1970 Illinois Constitution to notify Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett of his absence and thereby designate Hartigan as acting governor, but he continued to direct the affairs of the governor's office by long distance.

To any Illinoisian who had not read or otherwise learned of the governor's vacation, it would seem that Walker was on the job at Springfield every day. Scarcely a day passed after his departure for Puerto Rico without issuance of some publicly release quoting the governor on some appointment or other matter.

No governor in memory has gone to such lengths to convince Illinois voters that he is here, when he isn't.

To some at the Statehouse the long-distance operation is but another involved contrivance to serve Walker's vanity. But to most it's a deliberate effort to block a potential political rival.

It is possible, too, that Hartigan's latest well-intentioned initiative may have triggered the rebuff.

Walker is not the type to be pleased when his lieutenant governor calls a press conference, which turned out to be about as well attended as the governor's himself, and then issues a detailed 24-page bound report on Hartigan's own accomplishments for the preceding year.

Fund reception for Mrs. Kerr

Author and columnist Frank Mankiewicz will appear on behalf of Carmen Deist Kerr at a fund-raising cocktail reception today at 6 p.m. at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Kerr, of Bethalto, is a candidate for Democratic nomination as state representative from the 36th District. She is the only woman seeking to represent that district in the March 19 primary.

Mankiewicz and Mrs. Kerr became acquainted through their work in the Democratic Party. He managed the 1972 Presidential campaign of Sen. George McGovern.

A delegate to the 1972 national convention in Miami, Mrs. Kerr has been active in local, state and national politics since 1968. She has twice been elected Democratic precinct committeewoman for Fort Russell Township, where she and her husband, Raymond S. Kerr, reside.

"My support is going to come from the grassroots," Mrs. Kerr said of the fund-raising event. "We don't want influential backers to pay for our campaign; we want people to get involved themselves."

She said her campaign will seek especially to involve women in Illinois government. "No taxation without representation is more than just a historic slogan," she said. "There are only 11 women of the 236 members of the General Assembly. What kind of representation is that?"

Vacant rail office burns

A fire at 1:25 p.m. Sunday destroyed an old yard office building of the Norfolk and Western railroad, located behind the roundhouse area of Hildebrand Avenue, Madison.

Railroad officials were unable to give a damage estimate on the two and one-half story wooden building that was vacant at the time of the fire. Rhoads said it was the third fire on railroad property within a week. The other two were small fires and were extinguished by railroad personnel.

The fire Sunday, according to Rhoads, was believed to have been set on the back porch of the building. Railroad officials are investigating.

Eighteen Madison firemen fought the blaze for three hours. "Low water pressure hampered efforts," Rhoads said. "Years ago the railroad used to have a pump to boost the pressure, but since the locomotive day don't require as much water the extra pressure no longer is needed."

Venice wins Dupo Cage tourney

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Sports Writer

The Venice Red Devils continued their domination of area tournaments this weekend by downing Bethalto Civic Memorial 73-65 Friday to capture the 27th annual Dupo Invitational, the local squad's fourth consecutive Dupo title.

Venice hit the basket with a volley of outside shots to outscore Bethalto 22-14 in the first period but held only a narrow 34-30 margin at the half.

The enemy dominated the shooting in the third period to tie the game three times but still trailed 51-48 going into the final quarter. The Venice striking power proved too much for Bethalto in the fourth period as the Devils pumped in 22 points for the win.

The local cagers hit the basket with 30 field goals and 13 of 22 four shots while recovering 26 rebounds and committing 37 fouls. Bethalto made good 27 field goals and 11 of 14 charity shots but could manage only to pull down 17 rebounds while matching Venice on fouls.

All-star Ron Henry scored only six points in the first half as he was assigned to work the boards for rebounds, recovering 17, but popped in 17 points in the final half to finish eight of 10 from the field and seven of nine from the foul line to be named the tournament's most valuable player for the second consecutive year.

Jeff Stephens led Bethalto's game attack with 27 points. Four Red Devils assisted Henry in scoring Friday—J. B. Harmon with 17, sophomore Reggie Gardner 16, Mike Logan nine and Tony Sitten eight. Sitten was among those named to the all-tournament team in post-game ceremonies.

Venice advanced to the championship game via a near record-setting 14-12 victory Thursday over the Wood River Oilers. The low scoring contest was second only to the 1960 nine and Tony Sitten eight. Sitten was among those named to the all-tournament team in post-game ceremonies.

That year, Jim Curry, now head cage coach at Dupo, held the ball for 7:45 against Beaumont to lead his team to a 12-8 win over the victors.

Against Wood River, the Devils shut the enemy out in two periods, 4-0 in the first and 2-0 in the third, while the score stood 6-2 at halftime. The Oilers outscored Venice in the final period, but lost the contest from the foul line. Venice was four of six on free throws while the Oilers failed to score in their one attempt.

Scoring in that game for the local squad were Ron Henry with eight, Tony Sitten four and Mike Logan two.

Venice began its run for the championship by downing St.

Henry of Belleville 80-45 Tuesday.

Columbia outscored Wood River 67-59 to take third place in the cage classic and Valmeyer downed St. Henry 56-49 for the consolation championship.

"We figured," commented Henry, "to beat a team like Bethalto we had to work the ball, control the tempo of the game by hitting the open man consistently and hold our defense together."

Smiling confidently the senior all-star predicted, "Now it is all-state predicted. The run for the state crown begins with district competition Feb. 25 for Venice."

The Red Devils will compete Friday at Gibraltar at Waterloo at 8:15 p.m.

REBOUND RECOVERY made by Red Devil (45) Ron Henry Friday night in the championship basketball game of the Dupo Tournament. Venice defeated Bethalto Civic Memorial 73-65 in capturing the tournament crown for the fourth consecutive year. Henry is surrounded, left to right, by Devil (23) Mike Logan, Bethalto's Terry Feyen and Jeff Stephens, J. B. Harmon (33) of Venice, Bethalto's Jim Marburger and Devil Reggie Gardner. Donkey cage game Feb. 13

Rivalry between the two Granite City high schools will highlight a donkey basketball game at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, at the South High gymnasium.

The first half of the game will pit the North faculty against the South lettermen on donkeys. The second half will be reversed with the South faculty playing the North lettermen.

Buckeye Donkey Ball Co. of Columbus, Ohio, is supplying the donkeys for the matching. Tickets, costing $1 in advance, now are on sale from lettermen of either high school. Admission at the door will be $1.50 per person.

North cagers downed

The underclass teams of Granite City High School North found Edwardsville a rugged competitor in freshmen and sophomore games there Thursday.

The sophomores were unable to take the lead, despite the 19 points of Larry Schleicher and 18 by Tom Schocker. Edwardsville won that game 81-69.

Tied 39 all at halftime, Edwardsville moved ahead 58-54 during the third period and added 27 more in the final period to North's 15 to wrap up the victory.

The ninth graders were downed 67-36 by Edwardsville. The host team led in every quarter, 16-4, 38-17, 50-37, and the final score. Brian Smith was high scorer for the freshmen with nine points.

Losses jeopardize Madison Jr. High standings

Positions in both seventh and eighth grade Madison County Junior Basketball Conference standings changed rapidly Thursday at Edwardsville when the Madison Junior High School Spartans edged the host school 39-38 in seventh grade action. In eighth grade competition, the Spartans edged the host school 47-37.

The eighth grade Madison Spartans, now 8-3, fell into a first place conference tie with Edwardsville after the defeat. Anthony King tallied 22 points for Madison.

The seventh grade Spartans squad moved into the number one spot in its standings, with a 10-1 record, after its victory. High point cager for the seventh graders was Eric Stanley with 16 points.

Elsewhere Thursday, Grigsby lost 42-29 in the eighth grade game and then defeated the host school, Collinsville North, 32-28 in seventh grade action. Chris Gaddie scored nine points for the Grigsby ninth graders.

Coolidge was the only local team to post double victories that day. Terry King earned 11 points in the Braves eighth grade 30-22 defeat of the Prather Chiefs. Tony Elliott scored 10 points for the Chiefs. The seventh grade Braves downed Prather 33-25 with Jeff Parker taking high point honors with 13. Tom Harrison and Bill Tinsley each tallied eight for Prather.

Seek medical-surgical insurance for inmates

Inmates in Illinois correctional institutions soon may be carrying group medical insurance cards like those held by wage earners in the outside world.

The revolutionary group insurance plan for adults and juveniles serving sentences is part of Corrections Director Allyn Selaiff's future program for his department—plans which also will, he hopes, include three more community-based work release centers.

Funds to set up the additional work release programs will be included in the Corrections Department's budget requests for fiscal 1975, Selaiff said.

Actual sites have not yet been chosen, but he said the centers will be established, if funded, in the areas where intake is highest. Currently that would indicate, he said, a need at East St. Louis, probably one in Champaign-Urbana area, and another center in the Chicago area.

Within the next six months, he also hopes to see adoption of the medical insurance program, so that medical and surgical care for inmates—which sometimes cannot be obtained because of cost—will be possible.

Some federal money is expected to come from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, through the state's Illinois Law Enforcement Commission. Money now spent for medical care on a contract basis to meet health needs of inmates would be applied instead to paying for the program.

Currently, the department spends about $3 million annually for such services.

Selaiff said he has already been in contact with one of the largest suppliers of group insurance, and plans soon to put the program up for bidding by any other agencies which might be interested and are capable of handling a program of such size.

Inmates in a work release program and earning salaries might be expected to pay for their own share of the total medical insurance program, as they now pay taxes and family support out of their work release wages.

However, out of the total inmate population, only a small percentage currently works in such programs and earns regular salaries.

Addition of three work release centers would also increase the program, which has been highly successful, the director feels.

Inmates who apply are evaluated and screened, and then allowed to find jobs, live in supervised situations outside the institution and take part, on a graduated scale, in community activities.

Taxes are withheld from their salaries. Those with families are required to pay a percentage to their support, while those without are required to pay, against the time of their release.

Indict five in school thefts

A Madison County grand jury Thursday indicted five persons allegedly involved with the removal of items Dec. 28, 1973, from Granite City High School North's mobile driver education trailer, and from Prather Junior High School.

Arthur Heatherly, 29, of 3145 Georgetown Apartments, was named in a true bill charging theft, in allegedly obtaining control over a project worth more than $100 which was property of the Granite City School District.

Heatherly was arrested at his home after police obtained a search warrant. He has been released under $100 bond.

Named in true bills charging two counts of burglary against each were: Ronald Daugherty, 18, and James Daugherty, 20, both of 5099 Lewis Ave.; Kevin Riggs, 17, of 2028 Lindell Blvd.; and Charles Winder, 18, of 211 Georgetown Apartments.

The two Daughertys and Riggs allegedly were arrested at Prather after it had been burglarized. Winder was arrested later near his home.

Woman hurt in robbery attempt

Mrs. Caroline Sander, 54, of 1017 Washington Ave., Madison, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries received at 7:30 p.m. Thursday after a youth knocked her to the ground behind Reese Drug store, while attempting to steal her purse.

She was treated for cuts and abrasions to her right knee and released from the hospital.

ORGANIST ROSEMARY BAILEY, now in the midst of a 30 city national tour, will visit Granite City Friday to present a "Hammond Spectacular" at the Jack Johnson Music, Inc., Belleme Village Shopping Center, from 3 to 9 p.m.

Miss Bailey will present her "musical kaleidoscope" on a variety of Hammond organs.

Two hurt at 20th-Benton

Two persons were injured when the auto of Donald Bates, East St. Louis, and the truck of James Pegue, Jerseyville, collided at Benton and 20th streets at 12:45 a.m. Friday.

Bates was charged with a stop sign violation.

The truck struck a utility pole after the collision.

Pegue was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with injuries to his head and two fingers on his left hand.

Miss Debbie Kite, 17, of 3612 Kirkpatrick Homes, a passenger in Bates auto, also was injured. She suffered abrasions to her right knee and forehead. X-rays were taken and she was released.

TOP HONORS in a one-day membership drive by the Tri-City Area YMCA were earned by John Blasingame, left, who examines a campaign placard with Fred Cunningham, Y president. The drive, conducted all day Thursday, resulted in 160 new memberships, and increase of 16 per cent of the 1,000 Y members of record at the beginning of the year.

Drive nets 160 Y members

A one-day membership round-up conducted by the Tri-City Area YMCA Thursday produced 160 new memberships amounting to a 16 per cent increase to the 1,000 members of record at the beginning of the year.

The one-day round-up kicked off at 7 a.m. at Charlie's Restaurant as 24 Y workers shared the breakfast meeting of the Morning Kiwanis Club.

Kiwanis President Ray Grisham welcomed the Y group and introduced Irvin Slate Jr. who served as program coordinator of the Y drive. Workers were instructed with the help of skits performed by Charles Hasse, the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner, Ray Grisham and Marvin VanMetre.

At the end of the day, John Blasingame was awarded hours as the top individual producer and also as the captain of the most productive team, consisting of Slate, Fred Cunningham Jr., Joe Millette and Charles Meyer. Leader of the top division was Jerry Mauras. The second and third top individual producers were Cunningham and Meyer.

Cunningham, president of the Y, said that it was the most successful member drive in several years and that the momentum began with the one-day effort should continue for several days.

An additional 50 memberships are expected to be generated as a direct result of the round-up. He urged anyone who missed being contacted to call the Y at 876-7200 for details on program membership.

Protect Bear Woods despite new mining

The U.S. Bureau of Mines Research Center at Denver has agreed to evaluate a subsidence study to determine what effect, if any, future coal mining activities will have on the Bear Woods nature preserve in Southern Illinois. The woods preserve holds, within its 635 acres, the largest single tract left relatively untouched of the original deciduous forests which at one time covered the entire eastern United States.

There are more than 64 tree species there, plus a variety of terrain representing forest types ranging from well drained rolling uplands to areas that are low lying, frequently flooded and often covered by standing water. Many record size trees are located there, including the Shumard red oak, the largest Shumard oak in the U.S.

Amak Coal Corp., of Indianapolis has secured the mineral rights to much of the underground coal in the region, including rights to the coal which underlies Bear Woods. During the previous administration, negotiations were begun with the company to assure that proposed mining for the deep lying coal would not damage the unique stand of forest above the proposed mine. Coal from the mine will go to fuel a power plant under construction, and nearly completed, in Indiana, across the Wabash River from Mt. Carmel.

More marriages, fewer births during '73 year

A total of 3,064 marriages was performed in Madison County during 1973, an increase of 91 over the 2,973 marriages in the county during the previous year, according to a vital statistics report by County Clerk Eulalia Horz. Of the total marriages, 713 were performed in Granite City, up 67 from the total in 1972, while 81 were performed in Madison, 14 less than the 95 in 1972. Nineteen marriages occurred in Venice during 1973, up six from the 1972 total of 13. Marriages in Mitchell last year totaled 19, up six from 13 the year before. The report shows that more marriages were performed by ministers and priests, compared with 2,558 in 1972. Two hundred and forty-eight marriages were performed last year by associate circuit judges, compared with 356 the previous year. Ten marriages were performed by circuit judges, down seven from the previous year. Eighteen marriages were performed by Salvation Army officers, up eight, while nine marriages were performed by chaplains in the military services, down 12.

The month of June continued as the most popular month for marriages, with 387 performed that month, up seven from the 380 June weddings in 1972. August was the next most popular month, with 321 weddings in 1973, compared to 318 in August of the previous year.

September ranked third with 295 marriages in 1973, compared to 306 in 1972. The number of marriages by months, with the 1972 figure in parentheses, included: January, 185 (169); February, 205 (174); March, 225 (206); April, 209 (234); May, 241 (216); June, 387 (380); July, 266 (264); August, 321 (318); September, 295 (306); October, 217 (248); November, 227 (197); and December, 286 (257).

Births in Madison County during the past year declined sharply, the report shows. A total of 3,369 births occurred during the year, down 324 from the 3,693 births reported in 1972. Of the total of 1973 births, 1,658 were boys and 1,647 were girls. Twenty-five sets of twins were born during the year, a drop of 15 below the 40 sets of twins born in 1972.

The report shows a total of 2,062 deaths occurred during 1973, an increase of 92 over the 1,970 deaths occurring in 1972.

Amsted orders at record level

At the annual meeting of stockholders last week in Chicago, Amsted Industries reported that net income in its first fiscal quarter ended Dec. 31 amounted to $3,127,000, up 16 per cent from $2,691,000 a year ago.

Parent company of American Steel Foundries, Amsted reported that earnings per share rose to $1.16 from 97 cents. Sales climbed 21 per cent to $100,058,000 from $82,505,000. Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Gelf Smith, president, said, "Higher sales resulted from a substantial increase in shipments of railroad products and also an increase in general industrial products."

"Earnings would have been higher had it not been for the sharp increase in the price of ferrous metal scrap, the major raw material used in the company's foundry plants." Amsted's backlog of orders at Dec. 31 was at an all-time high of $199,000,000, compared to $75,000,000 a year earlier and $151,000,000 at Sept. 30, 1973.

The largest increase in backlog was in orders for compenoria for new freight cars. Additions to fixed assets were $2,600,000 in the first quarter and are expected to amount to about $14,000,000 in the 1974 fiscal year. A dividend of 65 cents a share was declared payable March 14 to stockholders of record Feb. 19.

Manpower plan to emphasize training

Warren Bacon, Chicago employment opportunities specialist, last week was appointed chairman of a newly created Advisory Council on Manpower which will annually distribute $50 million in federal grants for development of Illinois manpower programs.

The council was created by an executive order issued by Gov. Dan Walker, one of two executive orders filed with the secretary of state.

The council will be responsible for implementation of newly enacted federal manpower special revenue sharing legislation.

The advisory group will approve and disburse $50 million for manpower development programs and will supervise the spending of another $150 million for related state and local vocational education and other vocational training programs.

Special consideration will be given to the education, training and job placement of public aid recipients. The second executive order created a Technical Council on Means and Methods of Financing Health Care, to make recommendations regarding legislation and other actions relating to the financing of the spiraling cost of health care.

"In spite of many efforts by those involved in health care delivery, increased medical costs are threatening to become a serious barrier to the availability of health care to the ordinary citizen," Walker said in the order.

Bacon, assistant administrator of manpower administration for Inland Steel Corp., was a member of the Chicago Board of Education from 1963 until his retirement last year.

The manpower unit is designed to study ways to "expand job opportunities through the economic development of the state and through upgrading the education and training opportunities for the citizens of Illinois."

The council will operate in a manner similar to the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, which annually dispenses about $29 million under the federal Crime Control Act of 1973.

The council will establish statewide manpower related policies and recommend legislation to the governor and the Board of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation. It will also coordinate various manpower programs on the state and local levels and approve the annual comprehensive plans of regional and local manpower boards. (Other members of the council also are to be appointed.)

Rink improvement studied

Installation of plexiglass at both ends of Wilson Park rink to help reduce wind velocity through the open-sided building will be discussed with contracting firms, Granite City Park Board commissioners decided at their meeting last week.

Board members voted a special 2½-hour skating session on Feb. 12 when schools are closed for Lincoln's Birthday and to permit students to skate at a reduced fee of 25 cents and a lowered skate rental fee of 25 cents.

Construction costs for two new lighted tennis courts has been estimated at $30,000, the board was advised. The project was referred to the budget committee for further action.

Bill of rights for children in state

What amounts to a "Bill of Rights for Children" has been written into law by Illinois legislators. Several new statutes specify requirements to help prevent child abuse.

One new statute enlarges the class of persons required to make written reports of suspected abused children to include school teachers, school administrators, directors and staff assistants of nursery schools and child day-care centers, truant officers, social workers, social service administrators, registered nurses, licensed practical nurses and law enforcement officers as well as field personnel of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

Another statute specifies that the Department of Children and Family Services must begin an investigation 24 hours after the report is made.

A third law assures a minor all the rights to services necessary to his proper development, including health, education and social services. It states that parents' rights to the custody of their child shall not prevail when the court determines that it is contrary to the best interests of the child.

Under another new statute, no minor under ten years of age—except members of a farmers' own family—at any time shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in any gainful occupation in connection with agriculture.

Finally, a fifth new state law requires that adequate notice be given to foster parents and any agency designated by the court or the Department of Children and Family Services as custodian of a minor found by a court to be a neglected or dependent child.

Hostesses to the 31 members attending were Mrs. Todd, chairman; Mrs. Michel, Mrs. Roman, Mrs. Hugh Blake and Mrs. Robert Edmond. The decoration for the head table was an arrangement of fruit in a ceramic container with green tapered candles on each side.

OFFICIAL USDA FOOD STAMP REDEMPTION STORE
SCHERMERS WELCOMES FOOD STAMP CUSTOMERS

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
Another week has passed and would you believe that Friday will be Feb. 17? Herman got back from the Convention Thursday night with some interesting news. Avery saw the eye Doctor last week and he said everything is fine and don't come back for three weeks; so Avery is heading for Hot Springs this week. We've been getting some sensational produce buys. Last week we sold ripe tomatoes and white grapes for $1.00. For January there were sensational prices and we sold a lot of them. We'll see what comes up this week. Don Carroll, husband of one of our recent employees, suffered a stroke last week and is in Falmouth Hospital. Quite serious. Frieda House, one of our long time customers also had a stroke; we wish both Don and Frieda speedy recovery.
Paul Fick, one of our friendly meat cutters is back on the job. He had a back problem out of this world, last about six months work, but all is well now. One of our customers gave us a suggestion. "Why don't you run some sales on cases of canned goods?" We replied that we had several years ago and there didn't appear to be much interest in it. She then said, well, times are different now. So, being the store that listens most to its customers, today's ad has some "case sale items". For this week we chose our Chef Best Vegetable items. The reason for our choice is not only the price, but the quality is superb. If you are not convinced, just put the Chef brand against Del Monte or any other "favorite" brand. In your opinion that ours, yours? Chef is not equal in or superior to whatever you are comparing. We will gladly refund the cost of the test. Do it yourself. That's the only way to be convinced.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Norman Eiling as matron of honor, and Francis McCabe, the groom's uncle, as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Belleville.

The newlyweds presently are on a honeymoon trip to Miami Beach, Fla. Upon their return they will be at home at 411 E. Vandavia St.

Plan carnival at Lake School

Times have changed and even the Lake School PTA has been affected. Instead of meeting in an expected place such as a gymnasium, the Lake unit held its January meeting at the Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

The Life Membership Committee announced that a candidate for a life PTA membership had been selected.

The candidate will be presented at an awards banquet at Senior High North Feb. 21.

The attendance banner was awarded to Mrs. Sue Graber's room for having the most parents present at the meeting.

The president, Mrs. Dorothy Phelps, opened the meeting with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mrs. Phyllis Wiggins read the PTA prayer.

The February meeting will honor past presidents. Mrs. Brenda Withers, Mrs. Kathleen Bledsoe and Mrs. Carol Millard are in charge of arrangements for the program.

Mrs. Kathleen Bledsoe will be general chairman of the annual spring carnival.

After the meeting, the members of Tri-Mor Lanes hosted a social hour for the parents and teachers.

New official will battle government corruption

Editor's Note: On Nov. 23 Gov. Daniel Walker unveiled a new special investigation unit to probe official misconduct and corruption among employees under his jurisdiction.

"Let the chips fall where they may," declared Walker. "If there is government misconduct, I want it uncovered."

Named to head the new unit was Donald Page Moore, a nationally prominent attorney who assisted in the mail fraud and conspiracy prosecution of former Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and obtained the indictment against former U.S. Senate aide Robert G. (Bobby) Baker.

When he assumes the post April 1 on a full-time basis, Moore will be salaried at $42,500 annually. That's the same salary Atty. Gen. William H. Scott receives and is substantially higher than other top Illinois law enforcement officials receive.

Charles S. Sliedright, director of the Department of Corrections, is paid $35,000; Wayne Kerstetter, head of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation, $31,500; Harvey Johnson, director of the Department of Law Enforcement, $30,000; and Dwight Pittman, state police chief, $30,000.

Walker himself receives $50,000 annually and his top aide Victor DeGrazia, $37,500. It must be pointed out that the new investigation unit will be 90 per cent federally funded, if approved, to the tune of $277,000 yearly. Moore will supervise a staff of six or seven attorneys, auditors and investigators.

The following is a paraphrase of an interview with Moore from his Chicago law office. He was asked to outline his duties and later to justify why he considered his unusually high salary.

By RAND T. THOMAS

CHICAGO — Q. Could you briefly outline your assigned duties?

Moore: Basically my job will be to find out if there is any misconduct in government. I will investigate the conduct of employees in various departments in the executive branch who are subject to the governor. It will involve some 60,000 employees in various departments, commissions and agencies.

We will investigate charges of illegal misconduct and when necessary turn our eyes to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

We also will advise the personnel department and recommend appropriate disciplinary action. We will assist in the drafting of executive orders and legislation aimed at preventing misconduct in the future.

The object is not to nail individuals, but to prevent corruption from happening again in the future. You're dealing with enormous sums of money and when this many people are involved in handling it, it is inevitable there will be some problems.

The governor doesn't see any sense in letting someone else dig out scandals. He believes it is his duty to be aggressive and expose corruption himself. He assumes there will be some misconduct as there has been in state government since its inception.

Q. Have you been given any specific area to probe?

MOORE: I don't feel it is wise to be specific at this point in time on any specific area or ideas we have on the subject right now.

Q. Will you make your investigations and results public?

MOORE: That will depend on what the findings are. There are some problems in all fairness to the accused, if I make a criminal case against someone I don't think it is appropriate to call a press conference and say, "Look what we've found."

It's best to take the information to the appropriate law enforcement agency. It is not fair and not right to try a man in the papers if he's going to face indictment. The FBI doesn't do it and neither will I.

On the other hand I have a responsibility to publicize our activities and the results. But we'll do it in a way so as not to prejudice a case against the accused.

This is not going to be a witch hunt. We are very conscious of the civil liberties of the employees.

Q. Will you be taking over duties now performed by the IDB?

MOORE: My office will have a specific and narrowly focused responsibility. The IDB's responsibilities are much broader and spread much thinner. I suspect on occasion we will work together.

Q. Do you think $42,500 is a reasonable salary for your new job?

MOORE: I think so. If I didn't I wouldn't have taken the job. I don't think it's an unusual salary. I'm taking a very substantial cut in income. The governor thinks the job is that important.

I would say that I think that a lot of these jobs (law enforcement positions) are grossly undercompensated. It makes it difficult for the government to compete with the private sector. I think there is a definite trend in government to upgrade these salaries. $42,500 just doesn't seem like such an astonishing salary when it comes right down to it.

Q. Did you and the governor discuss your salary before you accepted the job?

MOORE: We discussed it as to how much of a financial sacrifice I was prepared to make. I told him I could cut it to a point... But, I represent a profession if you're not independently wealthy... Under ordinary circumstances I would expect to make substantially more money, perhaps $60,000 or $75,000 (in 1974). That's what lawyers with large Chicago firms make.

I know it sounds like bragging. But I do test even talking about it. I'm very reticent. But $42,500 is not an extraordinary salary for an attorney with an established firm. It would be very difficult for me to take much more of a salary cut.

Q. Will there be investigations appointed to investigate your staff?

MOORE: Judging from the Republican attitudes toward the Governor I think we'll have plenty of people looking over our shoulders. Maybe if one of those Republicans would give me a house in Springfield rent free I could afford to take a salary cut.

Multiple administrative layers, continuation of secret reports and discussions, empire building jeopardize future of local university

Points of concern cited here prior to the latest Southern Illinois University reorganization included apprehension over the transfer of a considerable amount of decision-making authority to an administrator based 100 miles from the local campus.

Although the administrator, Chief of Board Staff Brown, has considerable knowledge of this region, he does live in the Carbondale area. In recent months there has been a drift toward holding the bulk of the Board of Trustees meetings at Carbondale, instead of the previous pattern of alternating between SIUC and SIUE.

Directly related to this point are the overlapping layers of evaluation and control which shackle SIUE.

In addition to a university's relationship to its governing board and to the governor and Illinois General Assembly, the state has created a Board of Higher Education. In recent years the Bureau of Budget also has made its presence felt, plus the Capital Development Board. And now, even more than before, the three-man SIUC System Council and the secretary-ridden Board Staff will have a major voice in the way the two campuses are operated.

It is not necessary to find fault with any of the layers to conclude that their sheer weight and number could become oppressive and begin doing more harm than good. Works of art are not created by committees, nor is the best brew brewed by an excessive number of cooks.

Regarding the role of the Board Staff, some instances of delay and administrative sabotage have been alleged, such as in the effort to expand student housing here.

What appears to happen is that presidentially approved proposals from the north and south are scrutinized for their budgetary and legal implications and also judged on the degree to which they fit in with the Board Staff's concept of appropriateness.

No matter how conscientiously such assignments are carried out, the process would seem to show greater respect for the judgment of one administrator in the triumvirate—Dr. Brown heads both the Board Staff and System Council—than for the other two administrators. After all, budget copies and lawbooks are available in abundance at both campuses, along with considerable expertise for deciding what constitutes a reasonable recommendation to SIU trustees.

Opponents of a current bill to create two separate university boards have sought to show that SIUE has not been suffering from the worsening lack of autonomy. These foes ignore the long cessation of construction projects, only now being partly remedied. Basic facilities are still absent from the local campus, including physical education quarters.

If foes of a second board persist and say that SIUE has functioned smoothly during troublesome times that almost destroyed an atmosphere conducive to learning at many universities, the present on-campus administration must be given much of the credit. How is this? Because the SIUE has been able to place additional restraints on the SIUE administration?

Page will be carrying his campaign into Mrs. Mullen's backyard, Cook County and populous neighboring counties such as Lake and DuPage where GOP votes are concentrated.

"I've been concentrating on Downstate counties for the primary, the past year with only an occasional sojourn into Cook," Page said.

Too much the gentleman (and the politician) to speak ill of the fairer sex, Page

A statement on board and executive officer relationships adopted without the support of two trustees Jan. 19 attempts to present the new "ground rules" in a favorable light, stressing that "the basic operational autonomy of the two universities is retained." It also applauds the fact that "their missions, histories and constituencies are different."

Then having been said, the same document goes on to reverse itself and assert that "similar programs at the two should be justified to prevent waste and duplication." That phrase brings back unfond memories of such past comments as "Why does Edwardsville need this? We've already got this at Carbondale."

While the SIUC board voices hope that its decision to "strengthen" the System Council will "reduce the vagueness and overlapping areas which have been some of the problems," one wonders if the overlapping was not in fact due to the existence of the Board Staff and predecessor clerical and administrative staffs.

Whatever overlapping existed was during one period—being rapidly eliminated with the phasing out of multi-campus officers and assistants, placing increased responsibilities on the shoulders of the two presidents.

Then this trend was changed with duplication encouraged. Now there is a real prospect of new and costly empire-building. An empire perched directly atop the two campus administrative-clerical staffs.

It seems doubtful that an excessive number of governing layers will be in the best interest of SIUE. And many of the same multi-layer problems also hamper SIUC.

It seems equally doubtful that the greater reliance on the Board Staff can lead anywhere except to growing size and dominance of that needless third staff, at a big cost to taxpayers.

The lengthy "board and executive officer relationships" document includes other strengths and weaknesses. But among the points which the SIUE and SIUC administration, faculty staff and students may wish to include in their reviews during the coming weeks are these:

1. The reorganization gives the Board Staff chief direct powers to "direct the presidents" on a number of topics. Their only recourse would be to submit an appeal to the trustees.

2. It places budgeting authority in the hands of the chief.

3. It gives the chief added power to guide what SIUE personnel say to the public.

4. It provides for a number of task forces to become involved in numerous university matters, with the chief in control of their size, topic, membership and direction.

5. It permits the Board Staff chief to continue operating largely behind the scenes. No mention is made of making public his many secret reports to trustees, nor of limiting the scope of lengthy closed-door discussions.

"Executive privilege" is a concept receiving a lot of airing these days in Washington, and also may be a worthy subject for 1974 exploration by university employees and university watchers in Southern Illinois.

Page intends there is no way Mrs. Mullen can sway Downstate independent and cross-over votes from incumbent State Treasurer Alan Dixon, a Belleville Democrat, if she should win the primary.

Ex-State Rep. George M. School Sept. Ray Page. The older Page, suffering from arthritis, has moved permanently from Chicago to the Tucson, Ariz., area for his health.

"This idea that there is no longer any concern for geographic balance is poppycock," Page said. "Among the chairmen and the party people I've talked to there is plenty of concern for geographic balance."

Page, incidentally, will not be able to count on much help from his brother, ex-State School Sept. Ray Page. The older Page, suffering from arthritis, has moved permanently from Chicago to the Tucson, Ariz., area for his health.

TRY HIDING BEHIND IT. You'll see that "hiding behind a badge" is only an expression; it won't stop a burglar — or a bullet. Nor will it buy universal respect; not in 1974.

A badge won't make you safer, but the man behind it will. He'll help to deliver a baby, stop a burglar, find a lost child or direct traffic. When you need help, call a friend. Call a cop. Limit officials' length of service

To the Editor:

One good thing that may result from the Watergate hearings is the recommendation of limiting the President to one term in office.

Although this has been discussed before by legislators, maybe now we'll see it happen. One way to assure it is by writing our legislators and advising them of our feelings on presidential candidates.

Don't let this matter become another fiasco, such as abolishing the electoral college; that is discussed after every presidential election, but no legislation is ever enacted to accomplish it.

Wouldn't you agree that the term of office should be at least six years in order to assure the President has the opportunity to implement and carry through the programs established by his administration?

The six-year term would enable the President to perform through one senatorial and two congressional elections.

If limited to one four-year term, the President would serve during one congressional election, with every other president serving during one senatorial election.

A President may never be permitted to implement his programs under the four-year term. Is this fair to the person who has elected to serve as the head of our country?

An advantage of the one-term President is the confidence our leader would have knowing he would not have to devote his energies toward re-election. Still another advantage is the monetary savings from fewer political conventions and no re-election campaigns for presidential candidates.

Should this policy stop with the President? Definitely not. The same one-term policy should also apply for all governors.

What's good for the goose is good for the gander; our legislators should also be limited to approximately two terms in any one office.

By reducing the length of service in a legislative office, you are increasing the opportunities for more citizens to become involved by increasing the probability of being elected. Why should an individual take time and money to run for an office held by an individual who has occupied that office for years?

Just because someone holds an office for many years does not guarantee that the person will be congruent with the welfare of the people: more than likely it does guarantee that he will be concerned with the welfare of the political party.

By limiting the terms in office of politicians, you are reducing the chances of any individual becoming a political stronghold.

You may also change his philosophy by reducing the length of service, which may result in his regaining concern toward people. That would be a welcome change.

I hope voters take time to write the legislators and advise them they would like to see the terms of state and national officials as follows:

President and governor—one six-year term.

U.S. Congress and state representatives—two terms, with current length of terms to apply.

U.S. Senate and state senate—two terms with current length of terms to apply.

Maybe it also should apply to city, township and county officials.

It is all up to the voting public, the backbone of our democratic society.

Credibility should not be that hard to achieve.

Plans meeting on drainage problems

To the Editor:

A meeting will be held on Feb. 4 from 2 until 4 p.m. in the Nameoki Township Office, 4250 Highway 162.

Our state senator and state representative are invited, and also heads of the State Flood Control Task Force, Division of Waterways, Corps of Engineers, East Side levee and Sanitary District, Civil Defense, Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, Southwestern Metropolitan Planning Commission, Madison County Board, Granite City Street Department, Nameoki Road Commission, mayor of Granite City and Pontoon Beach, supervisor of Nameoki Township and the Nameoki Drainage Committee.

Purpose is to "brainstorm" regarding overall drainage, the high water table, flooding and sewer breaks.

Topics will include whether Horseshoe Lake can be made a part of the drainage solution, such as our main drainage basin.

Other topics are inadequate topographical relief and drainage ways, collection of drainage paths by road and railroad construction and by farming operations, deterioration of existing channels, and failure to provide for flood water runoff concurrent with increasing urbanization.

Any one of the cited factors could be remedied by local or state governments.

The combination of the factors, together with a long period of inattention coincident with the urbanization to serve the St. Louis metropolitan area, has developed the present critical and emergency situation.

What God has given, let us not inundate, it can be prevented.

Candidate cites geography

SPRINGFIELD — School was out Jan. 10 for Springfield Republican Harry Page, a contender for state treasurer nomination for state treasurer.

But it will be no vacation for Page.

That's when he takes a leave of absence as assistant principal at Springfield Southeast High School to begin campaigning full time against Mrs. Jeannette Mullen of Barrington for the nomination.

Page will be carrying his campaign into Mrs. Mullen's backyard, Cook County and populous neighboring counties such as Lake and DuPage where GOP votes are concentrated.

"I've been concentrating on Downstate counties for the primary, the past year with only an occasional sojourn into Cook," Page said.

Too much the gentleman (and the politician) to speak ill of the fairer sex, Page plans to concentrate on the geographic issue.

Page contends there is no way Mrs. Mullen can sway Downstate independent and cross-over votes from incumbent State Treasurer Alan Dixon, a Belleville Democrat, if she should win the primary.

Ex-State Rep. George M. School Sept. Ray Page. The older Page, suffering from arthritis, has moved permanently from Chicago to the Tucson, Ariz., area for his health.

2nd Schermer men's-boys' store to open this spring

Schermer Men's and Boys' Store, 1910 Delmar Ave., will open a store early this spring in the new Cross Roads Plaza Shopping Center on Nameki Road, Herb Schermer, owner, announced this week.

Schermer said the present store downtown will remain open and will be the main store. The new branch will have 3,600 square feet on one level and will employ about six persons.

Paul Crake, who has been employed at the present store eight years, will manage the new Cross Roads store, Schermer announced.

He explained that the new store will carry the same lines of merchandise sold at the downtown store but will emphasize men's clothing and boys' clothing sized 14 and larger. The downtown store will carry boys' clothing in sizes eight to 12.

Both stores will continue to sell name national brands, Schermer said. The new store front will be distinctive from the surrounding stores. The facing will be a bronze-finish aluminum, with half of the front set back from the front line of the other stores.

Double doors will divide the original front and the offset front evenly. A brick pillar at one end will enhance the inset half of the store front, Schermer explained.

Inside, he noted, shoppers will find harmonious decor, designed by Contract Interiors of St. Louis.

The fixtures, carpeting and lighting were chosen to complement each other, with a color scheme of orange, brown and beige carried out throughout the store.

Lighting will be provided by recessed fluorescent bulbs and by movable track lights which will highlight display and merchandise areas, Schermer said.

Hours at the new store will be 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays, he added.

Walker names committee to seek coal projects

Gov. Dan Walker last week appointed a blue-ribbon, bipartisan committee of public officials and civic and educational leaders to lead the fight to bring coal development projects to Illinois.

Co-chairmen of the committee will be Senators Charles H. Percy and Adlai E. Stevenson, III, and Congressman Melvin Price of East St. Louis and Robert Michel of Peoria. Price and Michel are the senior members of their party delegations in Congress.

Representing the business and educational communities as co-chairman will be John H. Perkins, president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, and Dr. John E. Corbally Jr., president of the University of Illinois.

Walker also has written each member of the Illinois congressional delegation asking him to actively participate in acquiring coal projects for Illinois.

Among the proposed projects being sought are a coal resource center, a coal gasification plant and a methanol production plant to convert coal to automobile fuel.

Gong. Price is chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, and Sen. Stevenson currently is chairing energy hearings of the Senate Commerce Committee.

Vadalabene sponsors bill on township consolidation

Legislation making changes relating to township consolidation is being sponsored by Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), in the upcoming session of the Illinois Senate.

As introduced, the bill would make the following changes:
1. It changes the referendum provision of the Township Act to require passage in each of the old townships (rather than the new townships) in accordance with the requirements of Section 5, Article VII, Illinois Constitution.

2. It makes the alteration of township boundaries effective in 1977 (rather than 1975) to correspond to the end of current terms of most township officers.

3. It extends the term of supervisors elected in 1971 to expire in 1977 at the same time as all other township officers.

4. It requires the county board to establish the time and place of caucuses to nominate candidates for the 1977 election in new townships. (This is now done by boards of auditors, which may not then be in existence.)

5. It provides for compensation of officers elected in 1977 to be established by the board of auditors of the old townships or part of an old township comprising a new township and having the highest assessed valuation as of Dec. 31, 1972.

"These are important administrative changes affecting our local governments," Vadalabene commented. "I have long been interested in helping our townships run their affairs as effectively as possible.

"One feature of this bill will bring substantial savings to the taxpayer," he continued. "By extending the terms of the supervisors to 1977, we will have a situation where they will be running with all the other elected township officials, thus saving the necessity of holding a separate election for the township supervisors alone. This will surely save thousands of dollars of taxpayer's money."

Pere Marquette hills offer artificial snow

GRAFTON — "Oo-WHEE!" People naturally stopped to look. Or stopped to stay out of the way. Or quickly moved to get out of the way.

They knew what it was before looking even, so when they turned their heads to watch it was with a slight smile spreading across their faces rather than a look of concern.

The face of The Howler was marked with real concern, however.

In his mind, right now could very well be the most important moment in his life. Imprinted there in the mirror of his imagination was a picture of himself — twisted and broken and rolling down the hill as the nucleus of a snowball — that would very soon become reality.

What was real was his scotching downhill, arms flailing like pinwheels. Still looped over his wrists, his thrashing ski poles became potential spears.

The Howler's problem was balance. He had learned the most impossible not to do the first time out on skis. He had shifted his weight away from the balls of his feet to his heels. Once that shift takes place the problem for novice skiers is not how to stay up, but how to fall down. Even falling can become a near impossible chore that first time because the natural desire is to pitch forward so you can break the fall with the hands and arms.

But The Howler couldn't fall forward because he was already falling backward. But he couldn't fall backward because — like all first timers — his body was stiff and rigid, and the heels of the skis behind him wouldn't let him fall. And The Howler didn't fall to the side because the body naturally fights that, too, and besides, there were those ski pole-spears out there.

Meanwhile The Howler was picking up speed. Faster and faster and faster he went and there was nothing else he could do, so...

"O O - W H E E - o o - Yow!"

The slopes down at Pere Marquette Ski Area, in Illinois' largest state park, are the same name, are regularly filled with dozens of people just like The Howler.

For, while there are many accomplished skiers in the St. Louis area, there's a heck-of-a-lot more people who have never skied before and are willing to give it a whirl. Pere Marquette offers a good introduction to skiing. So it's not at all surprising that many who learned the rudiments of skiing at Pere Marquette last year are now having for that big blast to one of the nation's more popular — and difficult — ski areas.

Meanwhile, they are getting in their licks and polishing their techniques at Pere Marquette. And getting used to being stared at. Skiing in southwestern Illinois is pretty much a novelty, you know. St. Louis may be known for baseball, football and Bud, but skiing is a pretty new experience.

Skiing at Pere Marquette is the brainchild of St. Louisan Don Caplan. He's got all kinds of arguments for people who call up the Ski Area (618-786-3306 for ski reports) and say something to the equivalent of, "What? Are you looney? Skiing down here? Pshaw. It don't even snow down here." It doesn't matter if it snows or not. All Caplan needs is a few nights of below freezing weather and they can make their own. And in answer to those who argue there aren't hills big enough for skiing, he answers, "You've never been to Pere Marquette, have you?" It's a fact: Driving into Grafton from Jerseyville on Rt. 100 your ears will pop at least twice as you drop to the Mississippi River Valley. Caplan claims the vertical drop from the hills there is equal to anywhere in the Midwest. The Ski Area's chair lift, at 2,245 feet, is nearly a half-mile long.

The Ski Area is a private operation, Pere Marquette Ski Corp. (Caplan is its president), which leases land in the state park. If skiing in the St. Louis area catches on, Caplan says, "There are enough hills in our lease so that we could expand to three times what we have now."

What may hold the burgeoning young enterprise back, though, is the energy problem. If the Ski Area counted solely on snow, skiers could pretty well forget skiing unless they do some traveling. And making artificial snow gobbles up diesel fuel at a terrific rate: Six huge, larger-than-semi-truck-size diesel engines are there just to pump air to the 36 snow making guns. Simple as it sounds, air is pumped into one side of the gun, water into the other, and — Voila! — snow.

That is, provided the temperature of the atmosphere is less than 28 degrees.

Like everything and everything else suffering from the energy pinch, the Ski Area is on the fuel allocation system. It's getting only 90 per cent of what it used last winter. And last winter it didn't operate the full season.

Caplan feels he can cope with the fuel shortage. He must, really. "We're going to have to watch the weather and conserve our fuel. We won't be able to turn the guns on as often as we did last year." Needless to say, Ski Area will be keeping in close contact with the weather bureau.

The fuel shortage and the weather might be a boon to the ski area at the Ski Area this year. Only recently opened is The Way Up, a "Bierstube" near the base of the chair lift. During the summer months, the picturesque stone building is an art gallery and craft shop, but for this winter, anyway, it's been converted to a kind of discotheque-warming house.

So, what finally happened to The Howler, was this: he fell in an almost slow-motion movement, he kind of sat down, sort of over to one side, and got the seat of his pants kind of worn and full of snow. Later falls would come easier, but he'd have plenty of company because there were many others there on their first time out, too. What he eventually did, was trade in his long skis for a stubbier pair, and for $3 sat in on a lesson taught by a genuine Austrian ski instructor.

After an afternoon of snowplow instruction, and learning the snowplow turn and how to shift his weight, and a few other basics, he tried a longer pair of skis. It was a whole lot easier that time.

These days he's sitting around the radio, listening to any of the St. Louis stations, or one of the stations in Belleville, Granite City, Alton or Wood River, hoping to catch a ski report for the Pere Marquette Ski Area.

His howling is over.

Workshop to study pre-school special education program

A one-day workshop for administrators, supervisors and teachers in the special education field will be held under the new PEECH program (Precise Early Education for Children with Handicaps) at the Granite City High School-South auditorium Friday.

The workshop, which will open at 8:30 a.m. and continue until 3:15 p.m., will be hosted by Granite City School District 9 which has initiated three classes for multiply handicapped youngsters 3, 4 and 5 years old.

The program is expected to attract approximately 100 workers in special education from southern Illinois south of Springfield and from St. Louis and St. Louis County, according to Vasil Eftimoff, administrative assistant of the Granite City School District.

Principal speaker will be Dr. Merle B. Karnes, Professor of Education of the Institute for Research on Exceptional Children at the University of Illinois. She is to speak at 9:15 a.m. on "Goal: Early Learning Programs."

Dr. Karnes was director of the preschool program for young mentally retarded children from 1950 to 1953 and served as director of special education in the Champaign Community Unit 4 School district from 1953 to 1965.

From 1965 to 1969 Dr. Karnes was director of the Research and Development Center for pre-school disadvantaged children which was supported by the Department of Special Education at the University of Illinois. Since 1970 she has directed training programs for Master's level students in the area of pre-school handicapped. The newly entitled PEECH program has been established under the Illinois School Code which requires each school district provide special education and services for handicapped children between the ages of 3 and 21, Eftimoff said.

Thus, all services and programs must be provided for 3-5 year-old handicapped children, a phase of the program which is being initiated this year.

The workshop will demonstrate procedures for developing and implementing an early education program for pre-school children, guidelines for evaluating each child, a lesson plan format, a physical activities program, a music program, a training program for staff, and guidelines for parent involvement, classroom procedures and incentive training.

During the afternoon session, Andre Batinski of the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, will speak on early childhood education in Illinois. Those attending will be divided into three groups to make bus trips to Granite City, Venice and Madison schools to inspect special education classes during the afternoon.

Anyone interested in attending the workshop may register at the Region I Special Education Office, phone 876-4900. There is no fee for the workshop.
